

Academic Summer Short Programs

Delta Study provides high-quality short courses to students, who would like to receive premium educational services and to experience life at one of the world's famous cities, Oxford. Our courses are multi-disciplinary – covering both education and entertainment.

Students will develop key academic skills, including academic English, research, critical thinking, independent study, as well as the ability to work in a team. They will have different case studies from real famous companies and undertake two small research projects to analyse the operation of a global company and solving a global issue.

Students will have minimum 18 hours academic sessions every week and classes will be taught on the Oxford Brookes University weekdays with a focus on both academic and soft skills such as academic English, seminar skills, critical analysis, and research skills.

All courses have been designed to be interactive, allowing students to study and have fun during their stay in Oxford. However, students will be expected to commit some of their free time to independent study including homework, research, reading, project preparation and presentation practice. After the course, students will be presented with a Delta Study Certificate of Completion with details of their courses and achievements during the course.

All programs will be taught by our certified and experienced tutors, who graduated from top universities in the UK and are lecturers in different universities.

We have 3 types of summer programs that students can select programs from minimum 2-weeks to maximum 4-weeks.
